Review Board Backs Ouster Of Firemen

Decision Of City Manager Upheld

The Personnel Board of Daly City, sitting as the Board of Review on Monday night, backed up the decision of the city manager in the April 8 dismissal of three firemen charged with conspiring to set a fire at the Lagomarsino warehouse at Washington and Dunk streets.

The board reported that on April 6, acting captain Harvey Cross, James Dresser and Robert D. Malcolm:

(1) "Consumed alcohol . . . on the Fire House No. 2 premises . . . in violation of the rules and regulations of the fire department."

(2) "Permitted persons not in the employ of the City of Daly City to be upon the fire department premises for an excessive period of time."

(3) "Participated in and permitted discussions to occur at the fire station to the effect that a fire would be deliberately set . . ."

(4) "Failed to report at any time the content of such discussion."

Cross, Malcolm and Dresser asked for a review of the decision of their firing. George Bullwinkle, the fourth fireman named in the affair, had not served six months for the city and was not entitled to any review under the city ordinances, City Attorney Paul Hupf said.

The four firemen who lost their jobs filed a million-dollar damage suit against Richard G. Hamilton and John J. Grizzel, the two civilians in the case who allegedly "put the finger on them."

Thomas L. Bocci, attorney for the firemen, had said they were unjustly accused. He stated that lie detector tests taken by the firemen proved inconclusive and that Hamilton and Grizzel made "libelous and slanderous statements."

However, at the hearing the firemen testified to drinking on the premises and discussions to the effect that a fire would be set.

They also testified that one of the firemen was in the presence of Grizzel when a gallon of gasoline was dumped beneath the warehouse floor.

Grizzel was arrested as he was leaving the Lagomarsino warehouse. He was halted by Inspector James Bergstrom and Lt. David Hansen who had spotted Hamilton in a car and saw Grizzel running towards it.

The fire was started in the warehouse by an unidentified person after the two men were arrested. A patrolman saw the blaze and reported it. The fire caused about $1,000 damage.

Citizens Query Knowles Ave., Los Banos 1-Way Plans

Several citizens Monday questioned the proposed $500,000 plan to make Knowles avenue and Los Banos avenue one way streets.

The plan, to improve the route between Mission street and the proposed Junipero Serra Freeway, was presented in a hearing at the city council meeting.

City Engineer William Chapman stated the streets would not be widened except at the ends, where the streets converge onto Mission and the ramps for the freeway.

Chapman stated the plan would eliminate the "free for all, no man's land" where Los Banos and Santa Barbara presently converge next to Knowles.

Knowles is to become one-way eastbound and Los Banos will become one-way westbound.

Twelve homes will be removed between Santa Barbara and Mission, where Los Banos and Knowles will merge. Four homes will be demolished between Niantic and Junipero Serra where Los Banos and Knowles will merge onto the freeway.

Niantic street, which presently jogs, will be straightened and run across both Knowles and Los Banos. Santa Barbara will be abandoned between Knowles and Los Banos.

Rabbi Shore, representing the congregation of B'nai Israel at 67 Los Banos, asked the council to help the congregation relocate when the street merger necessitates removal of his church. The church "Oldest Jewish Church in San Mateo County" is in the direct path of the proposed construction.

Mayor Joseph Verducci assured Rabbi Shore the council would cooperate in helping the congregation re-locate.

At least three protests at the meeting were against the project because of what was termed an "unsafe" situation for children, caused by the one-way streets.

Chapman stated the one-way streets would make less traffic because the traffic would be split, and the children would only have to look one way instead of both when crossing the streets.

H. Miller, 279 Irvington proposed building an overpass over all streets in order to make the crossing safe for children.

Due to the concern over safety of children Mayor Verducci asked the city manager, Edward Frank, to request the school board to make a report of school crossing problems.

GOOD TURNOUT FOR K.O. POLIO

Daly City scored high on its K. O. Polio vaccine day last Sunday when a whopping 17,253 persons turned out to take their sugar cubes at Westmoor High School. Approximately 38,000 persons in Daly City were immunized.

The K. O. Polio headquarters reported Westmoor's turnout was the highest in San Mateo County, topping the turnout of 13,697 at Hillsdale High School in San Mateo.

Locally, the turnout was Westmoor 17,253, Fernando Rivera School 7,269, Colma Upper School 9,311, and Ben Franklin School 4,550.

In Pacifica, the turnout was Linda Mar 10,527, and Oceana 10,392.

South San Francisco showed 5,854 at SSF High School and 7,225 at El Camino High School. Parkway School had a turnout of 6,006 and El Rancho School had 6,703.

The overall turnout in San Mateo County was an admirable 78.19 per cent.

A total of 347,453 of 444,387 persons were immunized in San Mateo County.

K. O. Polio headquarters reported the southern half of San Mateo County had a "terrific percentage," no doubt due to the fact that many persons were in the area on picnics and enjoying Sunday's balmy weather.

The south end scored 155.38 per cent in the areas of Half Moon Bay, Woodside, Pascadero, La Honda, Madera, Menlo, Atherton and Madera.

Dr. Robert Gobar of Daly City, heading publicity for the county drive, stated "we had hoped for a few more people to come out. However, it went along very well."

Dr. Gobar ured all persons who missed their immunization by being out of town to take the sugar cube this week until Friday from 1 to 5 p. m. at the Department of Public Health, 1024 Old Mission road in South San Francisco.

Smaller County Youth Study Group Formed

The North San Mateo County Youth Commission was dissolved and made into a more compact unit last week in Daly City.

North County Council representatives voted to dissolve the commission because it had become too unwieldly. Instead of several members from each city belonging to the commission, only one member from each city will take part.

Chairman Bob Price of San Bruno who urged the measure, also asked that the cities meet semi-annually to get together and form ideas on how to solve youth problems.

Price said attendance on the part of the cities was not what it should have been under the former set up.

Fire Prevention Week Proclaimed

Mayor Joseph Verducci has proclaimed October 7 to October 13 as Fire Prevention Week in Daly City.

Fire Chief Elmer Kennedy's men will present a wide program to enlist the cooperation of adults and children on fire prevention techniques and safeguards.

In charge of the Daly City area program will be Battalion Chief Frank Specht, Captains Ward Albee and Allen Brush of the Fire Prevention Bureau.

Because Fire Prevention Week emphasizes the preservation of life and property from fire, it is one of the most important of all safety campaigns. Moreover, it is the oldest of our country's presidentially proclaimed weeks.

The week set aside always contains the date October 9, the anniversary of the great Chicago fire of 1871 which destroyed 17,430 buildings and resulted in losses of $175,000,000.

Fire Prevention Week originated in the Middle West. Many communities in this region annually conducted special "Clean Up" campaigns. As a result of such activity, there were fewer fires and soon communities began referring to their "Clean Up" day as Fire Prevention Day. As the years went by, most communities began observing Fire Prevention Day on October 9.

Thus it came about that in 1911, 22 governors issued proclamations calling for statewide observance of Fire Prevention Day. Eleven years later the first Presidential Fire Prevention Week proclamation was issued. Today, nearly all governors proclaim Fire Prevention Wook and the nation's Fire Service takes an active part in the campaign.

Bank Anniversary Rudely Interrupted

When the Crocker Anglo Bank at 80 Skyline Plaza in Westlake has another anniversary, it will try to be more selective of its guests.

A pistol waving bandit terrorized seven persons last Thursday on the first anniversary date. It was the first holdup at the bank which had been in business at the location one year. Police said it was the first bank robbrey in Daly City in over five years.

Police were still following leads this week, but had made no arrests.

Five bank employees and two women customers were lined up against a wall by the bandit, described as a good-looking customer, until he began waving his revolver and repeating "I'm not kidding."

The robber wore a hat and sunglasses and entered the bank at 2:05 p.m. carrying a newspaper. He approached a desk where assistant manager Robert DeGraves, 40, was sitting with two new customers, Blanche Simones of 961 Geneva avenue, San Francisco, and her cousin, Mary Xepoleas of 137 Huntington drive, Daly City.

The man dropped the newspaper, waving a .22 caliber revolver, gestured the three back against a wall and then trained his gun on three tellers, Carol Bledsoe, 20, of 650 Claridge drive Pacifica; Gladys Hagberg, 30, of 16 Pacifica avenue, Daly City, and Mary Ann Greely, of 1457 South Mayfair avenue,

DALY CITY DIRECTOR of Recreation Charles Vincent (right) welcomes new Youth Activities Supervisor Alan Boyd to the staff of the Daly City recreation department. Boyd was named to the newly created post last Friday.

Daly City Hires New Supervisor For Rec. Dept.

Chuck Vincent, director of the Daly City recreation department, announced last Friday the appointment of Alan Boyd to the newly created post of supervisor of youth activities.

Boyd, 25, formerly recreation supervisor for the Monterey Public School District, began his duties last Monday.

"Basically, his job will entail setting up a program for all high school youths," said Vincent.

The youthful supervisor will work on the social, cultural, and sports programs for the youths of the community.

Boyd is a graduate in recreation from San Jose State College. He is a Bay Area native, being brought up in Berkeley, attending the Berkeley High School and the University of California.

The new supervisor and his wife, Susan, and young son, Allan Munro, Jr., will reside in Daly City.

Need For More Colleges Urged

The "immense need" to provide places for coming generations of students in colleges was cited last week in Daly City by Glen Smith, assistant president of San Francisco State College.

Smith, speaking before the North County Council of Cities, meeting at Val's Restaurant, urged support of the upcoming November bond issue 1-A for $270,000,000 for school construction. His motion was supported by the group.

More than 700 eligible students were turned away from San Francisco State last year, he said, because there was not enough room.

"This story is a crisis condition for the state of California," he stated.

Smith estimated that at a minimum, the college enrolls at least 1,000 students from Daly City.

"This next generation must be housed. We're turning away students from your towns . . . your cities. Proposition 1-A will alleviate this.

"If a student is not eligible to enter college, that's too bad. But if he is eligible and can't get into a college, then that's a problem of public responsibility."

Daly City's Mayor Joe Verducci added that entrance requirements at San Francisco State have been raised so that the college is beginning to

New Plastic Wrap Available At Walgreen's

Chef Line Plastic Wrap, a new kind of transparent wrap seal for foods and other uses, is the happy result of countless tests in homemakers' kitchens to develop a better kind of wrap.

Presented in time for the school-sandwich season, it is now available at all Walgreen Drug Stores.

A tougher wrap than others of its type, new Chef Line is set to retail for less.

Moreover, its "controlled cling" helps eliminate the complaint that plastic wraps sometimes get "ornery," getting all wrapped up in themselves instead of sticking to the job. Chef Line scientists have built in just enough cling for easy wrapping.

Chef Line Plastic Wrap does anything that wax paper does, only better, reports Walgreens. Its crystal transparency lets the housewife quickly see what's inside, and it keeps food fresher longer.

Good for a thousand and one uses, from saving leftovers to keeping mom's fall hat sparkling fresh, new Chef Line seems destined for a happy, wrappin' future.

Westmoor High's Top Students Hold Election

Election of officers highlighted the first meeting of the year September 17 for the Westmoor High School chapter of the California Scholarship Federation, traditionally composed of the scholastic "cream of the crop."

At least five of these points must be in classes that follow the student's course of study. A passing mark in physical education is required, and grades of "D" or lower are not accepted. Freshmen are ineligible until January, when they may submit their first semester marks for entrance.

The store, which will serve the school throughout the year, will be staffed by members of the American Field Service, and students from the enriched English and history classes, who will work before and after school as well as during lunch periods.

After studying hundreds of book titles last year, junior enriched English class students organized a list which would be useful to all students of Westmoor, as well as to its faculty.

Sponsored by Paul Zimmerman and Mrs. Doris Lindfors, the store will carry books from Hamlet to Huckleberry Finn, and including Explaining the Atom and Seventy-Five Hair Styles. With the assistance of Mrs. Ann Lynde, the school librarian, the paper-backs have been arranged in a colorful display for the store's great opening.

New Battle For Mental Health

The grave importance of the mental health problem can be illustrated by citing a single fact. Despite the progress that has been made in this field, the mentally ill occupy more hospital beds in this country than do any other type of patient.

Now the American Medical Association has announced a new attack on the problem, of unprecedented scope. The details will be worked out at a Congress on mental illness which is to be held early in October. Mental illness will be fought on every front, by improving the standards of treatment and hospital care, by intensified research, by stimulated educational work, and so on down the list. More trained people will be recruited to aid in the fight, and individual physicians are urged to give more of their time and effort to mental health work.

The educational phase of this ambitious new program is a very important one. As the AMA puts it, "The public's lack of understanding and frequent misinformation about psychiatric illnesses are basic causes for the rejection of the mentally ill and or programs intended to aid them." The attitude of many laymen toward the problem stems, so to speak, from the middle ages. So a greatly improved public knowledge of what needs to be done and can be done, along with public support of the battle, is needed if the AMA's splendid program is to achieve the success it deserves.

Those Idle Educational Plants

The cost of school plants and other facilities has become staggering. Palatial building—including such "fringe benefits" as gymnasiums that would serve for the Olympic Games— seem to be the order of the day.

That aside, the State University of New York has approved experimental plans which could save that state's taxpayers $200 million in capital construction cost. This would be realized through the more efficient use of existing and new college facilities. The institutions would be used throughout the year, instead of being closed down for vacation 30 per cent of the time.

This is in consonance with an observation New York's Governor Nelson Rockefeller made a few months ago: "From the taxpayer's point of view, the cost of higher educational facilities is so great that it hardly seems justifiable to have them idle for three or four months during the summer." And the Citizens Public Expenditure Survey says: "No private business could operate for long on the part-time plant utilization basis now employed in our school systems."

If We're going to have educational palaces—and this goes for high schools as well as the universities and colleges—let's at least make the best, most efficient, and most economical use of them, instead of letting them stand idle.

Those Wartime Excise Taxes

One of the constructive acts of this Congress was to repeal the wartime excise tax of 10 per cent on railroad and bus tickets and to reduce the rate on airline tickets to five per cent.

But this should not be the end of the line so far as those taxes are concerned. Numbers of them are left—imposed as World War II emergency measures, with the tacit understanding that they would be removed soon after the war's end.

A spokesman for the American Retail Federation made the point in a letter to President Kennedy: "May I respectfully point out that removal of wartime excise taxes is not only justified, but would result in placing disposable personal income immediately in the hands of the consumer . . . . Women who spend the biggest portion of the consumer dollar, find it quite difficult to understand why a wartime excise tax is still imposed upon cosmetics, furs, perfume, handbags, luggage, jewelry, and other items. . . . If you really want to help the consumer, ask for the removal of these objectionable wartime excise taxes."

This argument is a compelling one. Aside from the manifest injustice of continuing an emergency tax for many years after the emergency's end, one of the principal problems of the moment is to find ways and means to increase consumer spending in order to stimulate the economy and provide more employment. Repeal of the excise taxes would be an equitable, simple and substantial move in that important direction.

Something For Everyone

by
Samuel Chandler

There are ten million parakeets in American homes. The majority of these are Australian shell parakeets or buderigars, budgies for short. Their name is derived from "budgeree," a word from the Australian dialect meaing handsome or pretty. When a budgie is raised away from other birds, he will learn to talk and become an affectionate pet.

This information comes from the first page of a book by Cessa Feyerbend entitled "The Budgerigar As a Pet." It is a practical book that was written to instruct the owner of a young budgie how to tame and how to teach the bird to talk, and how to care for his pet. The instructions are given simply so the user can easily understand them.

Another book of instruction is "The Cage Bird Handbook," by Leon A. Hausman. This is an excellent reference tool that presents several chapters on the anatomy of cage birds. Although I enjoyed the chapter entitled "Our Cage Bird's Family History," I was surprised to learn that birds evolved from primitive salamanders.

Another book with information about parakeets is "Cage Birds in Color," by Mandahl-Barth and Anthon. This book contains three sections. The first is a collection of pictures of 157 birds; the second is descriptions of each bird; the third is a chapter about the general care of cage birds.

"Oliver Pete Is a Bird" is the title of a book for young readers. In this book, the parakeet introduces the whole world of birds. It is replete with line drawings.

Other books about birds are "Encyclopedia of Canaries," by Howard Fogg; "Canary Breeding for Beginners," by Claude St. John; "How to Live With a Parakeet," by B. A. Benson; "The Birds," by Oskar Heinroth; "An Introduction to Birds," by John Kieran; "Song Birds in Your Garden," by John K. Terres. These and many others may be borrowed from the Daly City public library.

State Offers 4,480 College Scholarships

The State Scholarship Commission this week officially announced the opening of competition for state scholarships for the 1963-64 college year.

A total of 4,480 scholarships have been authorized by the Legislature for the next school year.

It is estimated that nearly 2,000 will be open to new winners: the remaining 2,40 represent renewals to presently enrolled state scholarship winners.

The Rev. Herman Hauck of San Francisco, chairman of the scholarship commission, estimates that 17,000 high school seniors and college students will enter this eighth competition for state scholarship awards, which may be used for tuition at California colleges up to a maximum of $900.

Application forms, bulletins, and informational materials were distributed this week to the approximately 900 secondary schools and colleges throughout the state. Counselors will assist students in preparing the necessary applications which must be postmarked by midnight Jan. 8, 1963.

Competition for state scholarships is exceptionally keen. Arthur S. Marmaduke, executive director of the commission, estimates that all new award winners this year are within the top eight per cent of academic ability as measured by scores on the college board examination. In addition, approximately one-half of the new freshmen award winners this fall will be majoring in math, science or engineering.

Q—How many states have given a bonus to veterans of the Korean Conflict?

A — Nineteen: Connecticut, Delaware, Illinois, Kentucky, Indiana, Iowa, Louisiana, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Montana, New Hampshire, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Dakota, Vermont, Washington and West Virginia.

Q—In general, what will be the annual premium if a 40-year-old World War II veteran converts his five-year-term plan insurance to GI ordinary life?

Department Of Unemployment Consolidates SF Operations

The California Department of Employment is consolidating unemployment insurance payment operations in San Francisco in the single location at Tenth and Howard streets, effective last Monday, September 24. Announcement was made by Marc W. Johnson, coastal area manager, who said the move of the Commercial and Professional insurance offices from 801 Turk street to the new central address will offer claimants better services and should accomplish operational economies.

Concurrent with the change, the San Francisco Industrial and Service employment office on the second floor at 170 Tenth street will be moved to 801 Turk street.

The industrial section of this unit handles placement of skilled and semi-skilled workers such as machinists, mechanics, carpenters and factory labor. The service section deals with job placements in the fields of hotels, restaurants and hospitals, domestic and household help, and protective agencies. William G. Hamilton is manager.

The Casual Labor section and Farm Placement office remain at 371 Hayes street. Telephone number for all Department of Employment offices in San Francisco is PRospect 6-3850.

New Law Increases Vet Disability Pay

San Mateo County Veterans' Service Officer Floyd D. Granger this week advised local veterans who receive disability compensation checks from the federal government not to be surprised by an increased amount on the checks received after Oct. 1, 1962. A new amendment to the code increases the monthly payment to disabled veterans.

According to Granger, President Kennedy recently signed Public Law 87-645, which provides for the increase, making it effective October 1.

Along with the normal increase, says Granger, the first check under the new amendment will include an additional lump sum payment equal to three times the monthly increase.

Veterans with questions on the new amendments should contact the San Mateo County Veterans' Service Office at the Courthouse in Redwood City.

LAW IN ACTION

OVERREACHING HUSBANDS

In business a husband and wife may deal with each other almost as if they were single.

Almost?

Yes, except that marriage rests on confidence, and one partner cannot take advantage of the other. Besides a court may set aside a transaction or gift between a man and wife if they seem to be using it to injure or defraud others.

The husband cannot abuse his position as manager of the community property. The law presumes the husband overreaches if he gains an advantage over the wife in transactions between them.

In one case Jane agreed with John to "renounce all rights and marital claims in the community property in exchange for $14,000."

Later John died.

Jane claimed a part of the estate, and asked to administer John's estate. Jane still had an interest in the estate, the court found. She signed the agreement only "in respect for the wishes of John." And he hadn't told her of the real value and character of the community estate. He had, in fact, called upon her to give up her rights in an estate worth $200,000.

Agreements between man and wife must be fair and free of undue influence. Where the husband procures an advantage over the wife, the law presumes undue influence which can be disproved only if he or his estate can show he had made full disclosure.

The law protects the wife in other ways: It presumes in the absence of contrary evidence that property gained during marriage held in the husband's name belongs to both of them as community property. But it presumes that property held in the wife's name (by deeds, document, etc.) are her separate property.

Note: California lawyers offer this column so you may know about our laws.

The View From .. Behind The Badge

THE CLEAN SWEEP . . .

The Police Department is dedicated to maintaining a "clean" city. This is usually taken to mean that the Department is dedicated to the complete and continuous repression of vice, such as gambling, narcotics and prostitution. Recently, for example, arrests have been effected for each of these offences.

There is another way to keep the city clean, however. This is the prosaic and routine task of sweeping the streets. The responsibility in this case is that of the Department of Public Works.

Daly City is one of the very few cities to have the thoroughfares cleaned so often. In this city the residential areas have the streets swept once weekly. Commercial areas are swept daily.

The man who bears the responsibility for the job is William Chapman, City Engineer. The men who operate the street sweeper are Harold Turner, Arnold Eddinger and George Valente.

At the most recent City Safety Committee meet, Chapman, Finance Director Joseph Arch (committee chairman), and Captain Roy Beecher investigated some aspects of the street sweeping problem.

It seems that a prevailing play practice among pre-school children in all neighborhoods is to follow the street sweeper. Naturally, such an operation is of interest to the inquiring minds of such children. In addition, the sweeper is a form of excitement to the youngsters, much in the same manner as is the operation of a jackhammer, or the arrival of the milk deliveryman, or the sound of a siren.

The street sweeping machine is a highly maneuverable device, of necessity. With the children clustering and following the machine so closely, there exists considerable danger of injury to them. It would take very little for a youngster to be swept up by the giant broom.

The sweeping job necessitates the machine going up to the very curb in order to properly do the sweeping job. Parents should advise their children to stay a considerable distance away from the street sweeper, in order to avoid danger to themselves.

On one occasion, the street sweeper operator collided with a parked auto while in the process of avoiding a scampering youngster.

Citizens are getting the most out of their tax dollar with respect to the use of the street sweeper. Health is being protected and the streets are being maintained in a clean and safe condition. The tax dollar return is getting watered down if the job is improperly done as the result of the operator having to spend a considerable amount of his time in avoiding children.

A resulting accident further reduces the doing of the job, delays other streets being swept, ties up police units in the investigation, and results in a delay of services of several types. Also to be mentioned, of course, is the grief concerning the injury or death to a youngster. Such an accident is unnecessary; parental instruction could and should be the saving factor here.

As we have said, residential by-ways are swept weekly in this city. Householders can facilitate such cleanings by not parking their autos on the street on sweeping day. Citizens can ascertain the critical day of the week, if they do not already know, by calling the office of the City Engineer, which may be reached by telephoning PL 5-0850.

The streets cannot be properly cleaned when parked autos abound to such an extent as to impede the progress of the sweeper. Citizens will facilitate such sweeping if they will park off of their respective streets on the day of the weekly sweeping. It stands to reason that the sweeper cannot clean under parked automobiles. As a result, where parked autos abound, curbsides accumulate dirt and debris.

Citizens are therefore asked to protect their health and the cleanliness of the neighborhood by having their autos absented from the scene on sweeping days. Citizens can further protect the wellbeing of their offspring by directing them to look at but not to touch the street sweeper—and not to go too close to the machine.

While speaking of children, the populace is reminded to caution school-age offspring about accepting rides to and from school. Further, the children should be advised, as they are early during every school year, to take care in the crossing of streets. It is advisable to have the exact to-and-from school route clearly understood by all family members. This would facilitate the locating of a transient child in case of emergency or inclement weather. It should also be the route with the most traffic safeguards present, such as stop signs and crosswalks.

And so this is our appeal to you . . . to help keep the streets of the city clean and, most important, to help keep our children safe. A moment taken in instructing the pre-school neighborhood child will do it.

Group Discussion Meetings For Parents Of Pre-School Kids

A new series of ten group-discussion meetings for parents of pre-school children will be held by the Department of Public Health, Dr. Ellis D. Sox, director, announced today.

The discussions will be focused on children's needs at the different stages of development and the parent's role and feelings toward the children as they grow.

The group meetings will be weekly sessions, from 1 to 2:30 p. m. at Sunset Health Center, 1990 41st avenue in San Francisco on Monday afternoons, beginning October 15.

The group mettings will be conducted by a public health nurse, and will be open to any mother who has a child between the ages of two and four. There will be facilities and supervision for the care of pre-school children at the health center while the parents are attending the sessions.

Because the group will be limited in size, advanced registration is required, and will be accepted in the order of application. Information regarding these group meetings may be obtained by telephoning the San Francisco Health Department any week day between the hours of 9 a. m. and 4:0 p. m., UN 1-4701, extension 73.

YWCA Fashion Show Is Oct. 4

The fashions will be the latest in fall styles from Casual Aire of Westlake, while Althea's Beauty Salons of Westlake will style each model's hair.

Co-chairmen for all of the Y fashion shows for the coming year are Dorothy Orlich and Phylis Odenthal. Doris Fox is chairman for this first show and urges everyone to get their reservations in early by calling PL 6-7370. The cost of the luncheon will be $2 and there is complimentary baby sitting.

Mrs. Brant Is Chairman Of School Committee

Mrs. Margaret Brant, well-known Pacific Manor teacher, has accepted the chairmanship of the Laguna Salada Education Association's moral and spiritual values committee for the 1962-63 school year. Mrs. Brant is an experienced educator who has been active in the affairs of the teaching profession at the local, state and national levels.

This year the committee will seek to develop a series of bulletins on particular phases of moral and spiritual values in education as well as acquainting teachers with the San Mateo County and C. T. A. curriculum guides.

According to President R. Finken, "We are delighted to have a person with the training and experience of Mrs. Brant as both a member of the executive board and as chairman of this important committee."

Former Terra Nova Grads In Air Force

Two Pacifica men are being reassigned to new bases to attend technical training courses following completion of United States Air Force basic military training at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas.

They are Airman Basic Douglas C. Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell C. Miller of 56 Inverness drive, and Airman Basic Ralph D. Todd, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dale E. Todd of 275 Reichling avenue.

Airman Miller will attend a course for aircraft maintenance specialists at Sheppard AFB, Texas.

Airman Todd will attend a course for radio and radar maintenance specialists at Keesler AFB, Miss.

Both airmen are former students of Terra Nova High School.

Father-Son Indian Guide Movement To Meet In Westmoor HS

A "Get Acquainted" Council of Y Indian Guides will be held September 26 at 7:30 p.m. in Westmoor High School auditorium.

Y Indian Guides is a movement which fosters the companionship of fathers and sons in such a way that it strengthens family life and enriches the community. "Pals Forever" — the motto — means companionship with one's son at a time when the boy thinks his dad is the greatest guy on earth. Educationally and psychologically it is a sound program.

Groups of six to nine families are organized into a tribe. The tribe chooses an Indian tribal name and each member chooses an Indian name by which he is called during tribal meetings and other functions.

A newly organized tribe may choose any tribal name not previously chosen by an existing tribe in the name nation. Examples of tribal names are: Blackfoot, Chinook, Iroquois, Mondan, Otoe, Powhatan, Winnebago, Hoopa, Sioux, Crow, Cayuse, Apache and Chippewa. In San Francisco, a tribe may not choose an animal name, as these are reserved for the names of nations.

The purpose of the Y-Indian Guide program is to develop rapport between father and son when a boy is between the ages of five and nine years. Indian folklore is used as a media to this approach. As dad and son work and play together, in the many program possibilities an Indian lore theme suggest, the relationship between the two is strengthened. This new relationship in turn affects the other members of the family and can help to strengthen the family life itself. An Indian lore theme is used since both dad and son will need to learn, work and play together in this new setting, neither beginning as an expert in the filed.

Please call the Y-Indian Guide office at TUxedo 5-0460 if you have further questions or want to become related to the program.

'Y' INDIAN TRIBE—Chief Big Teepee of the Mohican Tribe in Daly City has requested his son, Little Teepee, to give 12 beats on the tom tom to signal the opening of the Mohican Tribe meeting of Y Indian Guides fathers and their sons. Chief Big Teepee is Bill Proctor of 812 Maddux Drive, Daly City, and his son, Danny. The tribe consists of eight fathers and sons, all local residents. The "Get Acquainted Council" of Y Indian Guides will be held on September 26 at 7:30 p. m. in the Westmoor High School auditorium.

Home Society Annual Bazaar Is Sept. 29

A carnival spirit rivaling the famed Barnum & Bailey shows will reign over the Children's Home Society's annual Bazaar and Carnival set for September 29, at the adoption headquarters, 3200 Telegram avenue in Oakland.

The society's Westlake chapter, Stardust, will sponsor a booth featuring imported goodies and "porcelain" trees for Christmas giving. Two major chairmen of this endeavor are Mrs. Trevor Geddes of Mill Valley and Mrs. Donald Briggs of Parkmerced. Assisting them are Mrs. Lawrence McDonnell of Daly City and Mrs. Willard Peterson and Mrs. Dalton Howatt of Pacifica.

Children's Home Society's bazaar and carnival opens at 10 a. m. and closes at 4 p. m. on September 29. Everyone is invited. There is no admission charge. All proceeds benefit the private adoption agency serving all the state for more than 70 years.

Thomas M. Koscorek Completes Basic

Thomas M. Koscorek, son of Mrs. J. M. Koscorek of 89 Marshall way, Daly City, completed recruit training September 7 at the Naval Training Center in San Diego.

During the nine-week indoctrination, recruits are trained in physical fitness, basic military law, military drill, customs and etiquette of the navel service, swimming and survival, first aid and basic shipboard routine.

During the training, recruits receive tests and interviews which determine future training and assignments.

England Assignment For Airman Hampton

GUNTER AFB, Ala.— Airman Third Class Earl D. Hampton of South San Francisco, Calif., is being reassigned to RAF Station, Burderop, England, following his graduation from the United States Air Force course for medical service specialists here.

Airman Hampton was trained to assist in the care and treatment of patients in Air Force medical wards, dispensaries and clinics.

The airman, a graduate of South San Francisco High School, is the son of Mrs. Barbara Carney of 5 Portola Ave., South San Francisco.

Pacifica Women Open The '62-'63 Club Year

September marked the first meeting of the Pacifica Federated Women's Club. The 1962-63 club year opened with guest speakers Dr. William Serbin and Mrs. Barbara Chase. They discussed the duties and availability of a psychiatrist and social worker in our area. A question and answer period followed.

Dolores Fazzio, chairman of the membership tea, gave a report on the success of the event and thanked her helpers. Seventy members and guests attended the tea at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Rosenberg.

It was voted that a new bowling league will be formed bearing the name of the club. In order to complete the teams, six or more women are needed. It is not required that you be a member of the club in order to bowl with the new league. The teams will compete each Tuesday from 12:45 to 3 p.m. If you are interested or know of anyone who would enjoy this activity, please contact Emma LeNoue at EL 9-0027.

The meeting closed with the sad announcement by Wilma Burton that due to a full-time job and, therefore, not enough time to devote to the club, she was resigning her office of president. The position will be placed in the very capable hands of Marion Ballew.

Art Show On October 13-14

The Art Guild of Pacifica's semi-annual Fine Arts Show, scheduled for October 13 and 14, will be headed by Mrs. Roberta Ewald and Luther Spraker, co-chairmen.

The various committees met for the first rundown meeting on the assorted tasks involved at the Sea Bowl on Thursday, September 20. Luther Spraker and Bob Southworth will hang and arrange the show. The committees for publicity and invitations will be headed by Roberta Ewald and Mrs. Virginia Podesta, respectively. They will be assisted by Mrs. Lillian Neathery, Mrs. Sidney Clark and Mrs. Vida Trout. Donald Carlson will handle outdoor advertising. All the aforementioned are residents of Pacifica.

The refreshment committee will be Mrs. Lucille Kent, of Moss Beach, and Mrs. Joanne Adams and Sherri Thomas, both of Pacifica.

Both third and fourth grades study Indians of various tribes and sections in their social studies units.

Indian civilization, legends, songs, games, arts and crafts were all included in Chief Eaglewing's talk to the appreciative boys, girls and teachers of these grades.

Does your daughter like to dance? Does your son like to tumble?

Perhaps we have in your neighborhood just what you have been seeking.

Westmoor Creative Dance Group was organized six years ago as a non-profit cooperative by a group of local mothers who were interested in giving their children the best in creative dance. The group is run exclusively by mothers in this area (Westlake - Broadmoor). Teachers, trained by Dick Ford, instruct classes each week on Thursday afternoon in the Broadmoor Community Center on White street, and at Thomas Edison School.

Creative dance is an experience all children should have. It stimulates and guides the child's active imagination, encourages the realization of joy in movement and through dance forms to develop the body and emphasize good posture. A child's own personality will emerge through this expression of his own feelings and interests. Creative dance will also make him aware of his movement in his everyday life pattern.

Dick Ford, originator of the national award-winning television program, "Hop, Skip and Dance," which is presented each Friday at 5:30 p.m. on KQED, Channel 9, has personally trained the teachers in his method of creative dance, and helps the local mothers in coordinating their programs and helps to enrich the program of instruction.

The classes are offered every Tuesday and Thursday.

Pre-school classes (boys and girls, age 3 to 5), kindergarten classes (boys and girls, age 5), technique I (children of the first and second grades of school), pre-ballet (girls over 8), advanced ballet (girls over 8), tumbling (boys, age 6 and up).

For further information and enrollment in these classes, call: Mrs. Lynn Howlett, WYman 2-0677.

Does the home have the influence on children today that it should have? What part does or should the church play in the nurture of the American child of today? We are told that the average American child spends 83 per cent of his time in the home, 16 per cent of his time in the school and one per cent of his time in the church or Sunday Church School.

What impact these three institutions have upon the child and young person will determine to a large degree his or her success or failure in life.

The pastor of the Westside Baptist Church, a former juvenile officer and a state parole agent will speak at the morning worship service of the church on the topic: "As the Twig Is Bent." This service begins at 11 a. m. At the evening Gospel Hour, the pastor continues in a series of messages on Baptist beliefs, speaking this evening on "The Person and Work of the Holy Spirit." At the morning service, special music will be provided by Clay Friburg of South San Francisco.

Sunday Church School attendance at Westside continues to increase Sunday by Sunday. Mr. Swedburg, Sunday school superintendent, states that a conference-wide Sunday School enlargement gets underway on Sunday, October 14. It is hoped that by that date a goal of 65 in Sunday School can be reached.

Thursday evening, September 27, the mid-week Prayer and Bible Study Hour meets at the Gilmore Swanson home, 442 Helen drive in Millbrae.

Westside Babtist hold their services each Sunday at the above mentioned hours in the Southwood School auditorium, Southwood drive and Hill streets in South San Francisco.

Jehovah's Witnesses Conclude San Mateo Convention

Completing three full days of spiritual instruction and sharing their faith and beliefs with residents of San Mateo, Jehovah's Witnesses concluded their circuit convention at the Fiesta building at the San Mateo County fairgrounds last Sunday.

Harold E. Casperson, presiding minister of the Daly City congregation, announced that 2,339 were in attendance Sunday to hear district minister Arthur Borchardt from Watchtower headquarters in New York speak on the subject: "The Bible's Answer to Our Problem of Survival."

The Witnesses were told the survival of mankind today depends not on the outcome of the present East-West struggle, but on the outcome of the "War of the Great Day of God the Almighty" (Rev. 16:14). "This battle of Armageddon is due to come upon this generation," Borchardt stated.

Friday and Saturday sessions consisted of a variety of talks on Bible subjects, with discussions and demonstrations designed to train the delegates to be better qualified teachers of the Bible in their local congregations.

From A Feminine Viewpoint...

By Mona Baker

Just a few minutes' drive from the busy, bustling heart of the city, San Francisco, is the picturesque community of Pacifica, bordering on the shores of the blue Pacific. The rugged coastline with towering white waves pounding the rocks is reminiscent of the Big Sur area of California which is the home of so many well-known artists and writers.

Similarly the city of Pacifica has become the home of many artists of note. Organized into a group called the Art Guild of Pacifica, the artists each year sponsor the Pacifica Fine Arts Show. The third annual show will be held this year on October 13 and 14 (10 a. m. to 6 p. m.) in the rustic Pedro Fire House, located on historical Pedro Paint. Many of the artists who will exhibit in the show have had one man shows in other cities.

Show chairman of the show this year is Roberta Ewald who is our selection for our community leader of the week. A portrait artist who has been painting all her life, she still has found time to devote to her community.

She has served on the Board of Governors of the Art Guild and last year as program chairman arranged for guest speaking, including many well-known artists such as John Garth, San Francisco's noted portrait and mural artist.

Particularly interested in youth activities, she has been directing the youth choir of the Pedro Valley Presbyterian Church, and is also organizing a teen-age choir for the church. In her musical activities she is carrying out a family tradition because her father's family has for over 300 years headed the music of their church in Sweden. She has also been a soloist in the adult choir and is a member of the Pacifica Municipal Chorus.

The Ewalds have been residents of Vallemar for four years and her husband, Henry, is associated with the Panorama Travel Agency in Westlake. Their son, Grant, is in the eighth grade at Vallemar Elementary School.

Winging back up Skyline to San Francisco is an event this week that has become a San Francisco tradition — the Baccari Vintage Festival. This is the 22nd year for the colorful event in honor of the wines and vines of California and will be held September 28 through October 30. Among the highlights is the Pageant Cavalcade at the City Hall Rotunda with a cast of 300, including a symphony orchestra. There will also be a wine and grape exhibit in Golden Gate Park's Hall of Flowers pavilion. The celebration is free; so do plan to attend.

An important event of Bay Area significance will be taking place next week — White Cane Days — conducted by the Lions Club. Also an annual affair, proceeds from the sales of miniature white canes go to help the blind and visually handicapped individuals. The local Daly City-Colma Lions Club will participate, so be sure to get your cane on "White Can Day" — October 5 and 6.

October 4 is an important day at the Westlake Bowl because the YWCA monthly Thursday luncheon-fashion shows begin. Models who attended the recent model's training day and will model during the coming season include Marcia McGuirk, Lynette Erlace, Muriel Salanto, Florence Schwah, Pearl Bradshaw, Jeanne Sorenson, Ginger Straight, Norma Washford, Sherry Christensen, Virginia Wilson, Teddy Erwin, Marty Conrad, Pat Smith, Elsie Dab, Cynthia Fauber, Betty Turner, Beatrice Lampe, Mural Baron, Vi Kitsmillen, Peg Miller, Vivian Hultgren, Julie Vigil, Lois O'Conner, Toy Farrell, Mary DeWitt, Beverly Gracia, Gladys Holton and Ruth Baron.

The fashion shows will be held the first Thursday of each month through the fine cooperation of the merchants of the Westlake Shopping Center. Mark your calendar now, and don't forget there is free nursery care for your little tots at every luncheon.

SOCIAL NOTES: One of the most elegant events of the fall social season was a tea on Sunday hosted by the Federated Women's Club of Pacifica and held at the lovely home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Rosenberg. Striking floral arrangements of white stock graced a tablecloth of gold. Pouring were Alice Yriarte, Helen Minshew, Dorothy Fegge, Edna Laurel and Marian Ballen Calhan.

An important social event on the calendar of the Epiphany Guild is a fashion show-luncheon to be held at the Venetian Room of the Fairmont Hotel on October 20. Plans will be finalized at a meeting of the guild on October 11.

NEWS BRIEFS: Like to "purl one, knit two" or is it "knit two, purl one" — if you don't know and would like to learn how to knit, do plan to join the new YWCA class at Westlake Bowl on Mondays at 9:30 a. m. (nursery care for children). Shirley Steigerwald is the expert instructor and she told us she hopes to have a fashion show with girls modeling the fashions they have knitted.

Back to live in the area is the Lt. Dean DeWitt family who spent three years at Langley Point in the Philippines. Mary told us that she modeled in some fashion shows in the Philippines. Buy the way, too, she said, she kept up with news from home through issues of the "Westlake Times."

House guests of the Hal Fox family last week were Doris' parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Perry from San Juan Batista.

Recent vacations for two members of H. Liebes staff — manager Barbara Gray spent two weeks at Virginia Beach while Jeanette Parinson and family journeyed to Seattle for the World's Fair.

Weekending in Reno were Lorraine and Tulio Picchi.

By GARRY NIVER

One of the biggest upsets in the last several years of pro football came about Sunday when the Washington Redskins whipped the Cleveland Browns by a single point, 17-16.

The Washington Redskins, long the doormat of the Eastern Conference, were 17 point underdogs. The boy who did most of the damage against Cleveland was halfback Bobby Mitchell.

Ironically, it was because of Cleveland that Washington got Mitchell. The Browns wanted former Syracuse All American Ernie Davis real bad. So bad, as a matter of fact, that they were willing to trade away Mitchell to Washington, who had the draft rights to Davis, for those draft rights. As it was, Davis became ill this season and was forced to sit it out. Mitchell, who always had to take a back seat to Jimmy Brown as far as choice plays were concerned, suddenly found himself alone in the spotlight department with Washington.

Even more ironical was the fact that Washington was allegedly very prejudiced when it came to Negro players. The Redskins refused to draft or have any part of the colored boys. It became so bad that the National Football League forced the Skins both to take Davis and to draft other colored players. They told them to have a Negro or Negroes on their 1962 roster, or else!

The Redskins complied reluctantly and now they must be wondering why they held out so long against the Negro football players.

It seems rather ludicrous that the nation's capital —the capital of the free world — should discriminate in any way, shape or form.

Fortunately, all turned out well and this is a stirring tribute to Bobby Mitchell, who gave his all even though he was joining a cellar-dwelling team which had previously denied his race.

And all has turned out well because today, for the first time in ages, the Redskins are topping the Eastern Conference with a one-win, one-tie record.

Maybe some of those universities in the South should take a lesson from the Washington Redskins. A little integration might work wonders.

Jefferson-Oceana Meet In Grid Clash Friday

The first meeting between two teams of the spanking-new North Peninsula League will take place this Friday afternoon at 3:15 on the Oceana field in Pacifica.

Coach Joe McGrath's Jefferson Indians, the transient team without a home field, will meet the newly formed Oceana Sharks in a non-league practice contest. This will be the first of two meetings between the two clubs this season.

It will also be a battle between the scoreless. Both clubs were blanked in their initial outings last week. The Indians lost to Ravenswood, 20-0, and the Sharks were soundly thumped by Lick-Wilmerding, 33-0.

In the Jeff-Ravenswood encounter, the Indians managed to roll up a respectable 200 yards on offense but had trouble holding onto the ball.

The Indians fumbled five times, losing two of them, and had two passes intercepted.

The Indians stayed on pretty even terms with the Trojans through the first two quarters. Center Daryl Crist, Jeff's 210-pound nomination for all-league honors, paced the Indian defense during the first half. Armando Cardena and Al Lonstrom also played good defensive ball for the Indians.

The Indians put on a good drive just before the half ended. Behind the running of speedster halfback Leo Gotelli and halfback Larry Jones, the Blue and Gold moved the ball from their own 40 down to the 11 yard line.

There Don Fisicaro, junior quarterback, up from last year's frosh-soph, aerialed to Ed Larios on the four yard line. But this is where the Indians ran out of time as the gun sounded for the half.

Ravenswood's Lou Ciaruffoli almost single-handedly destroyed the Indians. The speedy Trojan back sped 37 yards for one touchdown and four yards for another.

The Indians were unable to generate any sustained offensive drive during the second half.

In the Oceana contest, the Sharks were completely outmanned in their debut into varsity football. The Lick-Wilmerding eleven seemed to score at will over the undermanned Oceana team.

Jefferson, on the strength of last week's showing has been established the favorite.

Nor'west Champ At Half Moon Bay Drags Saturday

Also scheduled to run at Half Moon Bay is the world's fastest quickest Chevrolet, the Cham-

Westmoor Hosts Ravenswood Friday

It looks like the practice sessions for coach Pete Matisi's Westmoor Rams are going to be tougher than the league.

Last Friday afternoon, before the hometown fans at the hilltop campus, the locals ran up against the well-trained defense of the Aragon Dons and were upset, 7-6.

This Friday afternoon, the green and white clad gridders from Westmoor throw out the welcome mat for the Ravenswood Trojans from the South Peninsula League.

The Trojans already have a North Peninsula League star on their shield, dumping the Jefferson Indians, 20-0, last Friday at Ravenswood.

Matisi hopes to have the offense of the Rams rounded into a little better form this week. The locals will be entering the contest the slight underdogs, but it was obvious last Friday that they didn't perform up to their full potential.

Neither team was able to generate much of an offense for the first half. The Rams sustained one drive, starting on their own four-yard line, which fell short 63 yards later at the Aragon 33-yard line, when the halftime gun went off.

The two Mikes, Barich and DeBernardi, paced the Rams during the first half.

The only big letdown in the Ram defense all day came at the start of the second half. Slender Don halfback Pete Lewis scooped up the kick-off on the 20, dropped it, picked it up again, cut expertly to the outside, and then delicately back to the middle, and raced 80 yards for the Aragon score. Halfback Mike Noce boomed over left tackle for the all-important extra point, giving the Dons a 7-0 lead.

The Rams then came right back on their only successful drive of the day.

Starting on their own 35-yard line, they moved the ball right up the middle, with the key play being a 22-yard burst by Barich.

With a first and 10 on the Aragon 20, quarterback Bruce Hix began limbering up his arm. He hit Schmuck across the middle with a 13-yard toss and then repeated with an eight-yard paydirt fling to the 1961 All-PL end.

The PAT failed, and as far as the record goes, that was the ball game.

The Rams got one more drive going, but it was cut short when Aragon end Rich Wirgler pounced on a Ram fumble on the Don 42-yard line. The Dons then stalled out the clock.

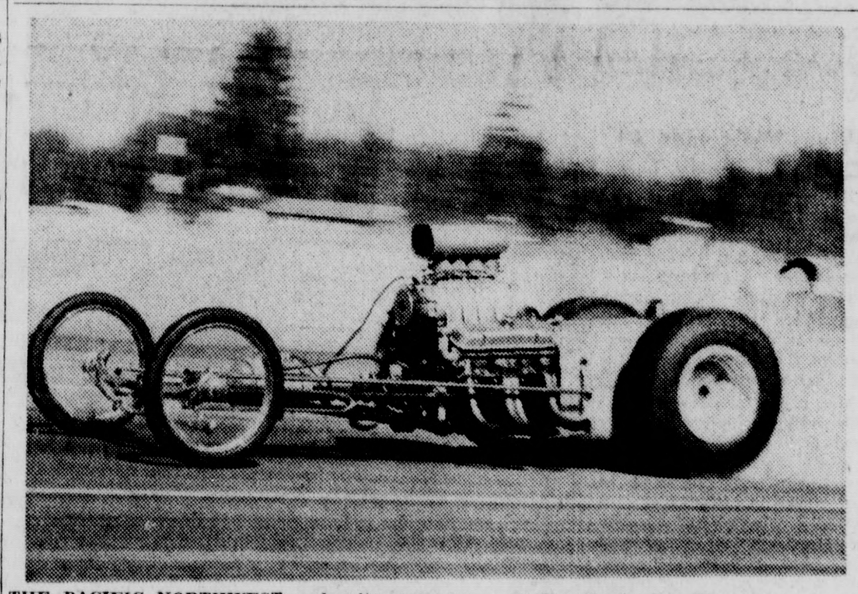
The Rams' defense, led by all-round player Mike Barich and youthful sophomore Ron Baker, held up well under the onslaught of hard-running Aragon backs.

Roger Prioa and Mike Pignataro also performed admirably on defense.

Hix, who was a little off in the first half, hit six for 14 in the passing department for 68 yards and one touchdown. The Rams outgained the Dons 234 yards to 79 yards on total offense, but were hampered by two lost fumbles and an interception.

DeBernardi led all rushers with 80 yards in 14 carries for a 5.7 average per carry. Barich had 65 yards in 18 carries.

The Rams also suffered another defeat when flankerback Henry Johnson suffered a broken arm in the second quarter and will be out for the remainder of the season.



THE PACIFIC NORTHWEST Grimm and Angel Pontiac-powered dragster (above) will make its appearance at the Half Moon Bay Drag Strip this Saturday. Also featured will be South San Francisco's Speed Shop Special, which will soon leave for Texas to vie for the nation's top dragster honors.

Midget Racing Returns To Alviso Speedway Oct. 5

In response to requests from fans, Alviso Speedway will return the "mighty midgets" of Bay Cities Racing Association to share the program with the hardtops and claiming stock cars Friday night, October 5.

The regular doubleheader races of the Western Auto Racing hartops and the NASCAR claiming stocks will continue as usual this Friday with time trials beginning at 7:30 p.m.

After the midget racers competed for the first time on the Alviso quarter mile dirt oval on September 2, the 1800 spectators asked for more.

Track management, unable to interrupt the set schedule, then added the midgets for October 5 and arranged to stage three main events, three trophy dashes.

In the "tripleheader racing" show, there will be no heat races. Midgets and hardtops

It's SPARE TIME

at Westlake Bowl

By JIM GREALISH

One and seven must be the magic numbers for a 300 game at Westlake Bowl. In March of 1960, Bob Bresnahan, age 71, rolled the first perfect game in the Friday Jackpot Sweeper. Since it was not in league play, the score was not recognized for American Bowling Congress awards.

Last week, John Bussey, age 17, bowled 12 consecutive strikes for the first perfect game in league competition. After the first six strikes, all activity in the Bowl stopped as a crowd gathered behind lanes 23 and 24 to cheer John as he threw each ball. John's perfect game helped his Standard Concrete team to a new Westlake high of 1115 for a one game team score. For his game, John will receive cash and merchandise awards in excess of $1,000.

Tom Franza and Ruth Noll joined the 600 Club and 550 Club, respectively, last Thursday in the Kings and Queens 850 Mixed Scratch League. Ruth's 206 game and 577 series earned her a membership, while Tom shot 215 and 608.

Til Selli decided to bowl an extra night last week so he joined the Plumbers team in the Southwest Handicap League and proceded to roll a big 212 game and 591 series.

High roller in the Ladies' Sunset Handicap was Odessa Bumalt, who shot a 185 game and 494 series.

October 6 is the date for the next Saturday night No-Tap-Dance Buffet. The theme will be Hawaiian Holiday with a special hula demonstration. Las Vegas vacations will again be awarded as prizes.

One pin kept Vito Serafini of the Marche Club from membership in the 600 Club as he shot a 210 game and 599 series.

Peggy Narducci led the ladies in the Ball and Chain Mixed Fives with a big 175 game and 479 series, while John King shot a 193 game and 533 series.

In the Westlake Classic, Bill Boyd of Golden West Concrete led the pack with a 214 game and 590 series.

There were many new members introduced into the 600 Club as Angelo Baldelli shot 616, Chick Hendricks 608, Jim Marston 611, John Bazzanella 603, Nick Kereluk 606, John Schmidt 648, Rich Brewer 608 and Ed Gilmore 622.

The Southgate Mixed Fives produced two new leaders on opening night as Karen Gore led the ladies with 188 and 479 and Jim Agnew led the men with a 198 game and 535 series.

The Daly City Employees started their winter league with Mary Johnston the leading lady on a 155 game and 416 series which Rich Brewer shot a big 235 game and 608 series.

The Saturday Swiss Singles will resume play September 29 at 2 p.m. with a new format. Rather than use the Professional Bowling League system of scoring the competition will be on the conventional Swiss Singles system. Pairings in the first round will be on the basis of average with the remaining three games on a position round basis.

A new member of the Ladies' 550 Club last week was Helen Noone in the Ladies' 800 Classic with a 574 series on a high game of 22.

Bunny Lou and Judy Nelson were the leading ladies Monday night as Bunny led the Starliters with 185 and 446 while Judy led the Evening Stars with a 194 game and 545 series.

SSF Dragsters Featured In Fremont Races

The third annual fall championship races at Fremont Drag Strip, Sept. 29 and 30, will see some of the West Coast's finest and fastest machines racing for the big cash purses offered by the Southern Alameda County track.

Among the speedsters already sending in entries are the Washington State champions, Angle and Gum, of Seattle; the Porter and Reese A-fuel Chrysler from Pomona, one of the top Los Angeles area machines, and Bill Martin with his B-fuel Blown Chevy dragster from Los Angeles.

With two days of racing, fans will have a chance to see such top names in racing as the Terrible Ted Gotelli Special from South San Francisco, the Champion Speed Shop Special, also of South San Francisco (and rated No. 2 on the national Mr. Eliminator listings); the M & R Special of San Leandro, and Bob Sharboro of Oakland with his A-fuel speedster.

These machines travel the standing quarter-mile in roaring bursts of speed that reach over 180 mph through the traps at the end of the 1,320-foot track. They cover the distance from a complete stop to the finish line in just over eight seconds.

'Hammy' South SF Takes On Unbeaten Riordan At Kezar

The South San Francisco Warriors are hams at heart.

The Blue and White gridders from B street performed before the television cameras last Friday night under the arcs at Clifford Field and emerged a decisive 20-0 winner over San Lorenzo.

This week, Coach Ray DeJong's charges will have things a bit tougher when they trek to Kezar this Friday night to tangle with the undefeated Riordan Crusaders from the tough Catholic Athletic League. Kickoff time is 8 o'clock.

And also this time there will be no television cameras or a home town audience for the boys to show up for.

Coach Jerry Finnegan's Crusaders displayed a rock-ribbed defense last Friday night under the Kezar lights when they ran over Terra Nova, 20-6.

The Crusaders will also be bringing speedy break-away back Sandy Green into Friday night's tussle with the Warriors, plus a bag of variations in single-wing and double-wing offenses.

South San Francisco will be counting heavily on the arm of Rich Wickersham, the speed of Bobby Szehner and the toe of Steve Balopulos, plus the defense led by Gary Iacini and Butch Viat.

In last Friday night's lid-lifter with San Lorenzo, the Warriors showed a good strong offensive machine. The Blue and White gridders rolled up a total of 280 yards on offense, while the Warrior defense held the East Bay visitors to 100 yards total offense.

The Warriors opened up their scoring parade in the second quarter when halfback Jim Shutz returned a punt 17 yards to the SSF 37, and then raced around end for 28 yards to set the ball up on SL's 25. On the next play, Warrior quarterback Wickersham unloaded a 25-yard scoring toss to end Bill Gust.

The Warriors added another score in the third quarter when Schutz scooted six yards unmolested into the end zone. Balopolus converted.

The locals put the cap on the scoring in the final quarter when Wickersham plunged over from the four yard line. Balopulos again converted to give the Warriors a 20-0 lead.

The closest the vistors could get to the well-guarded Blue and White goal line all night was the 38 yard line.

The Warriors, possessors of an 8-1 record last year, have thus established themselves as a title contender in the NFL.

Boat Champ To Use Airplane Engine In Race

Jack Salmon is planning on "flying" in the second annual $15,000 Calton City 500-mile boat race, November 9-11.

Salmon, the former national champion who was brought out of retirement by the thought of winning the first overall check of $5,000, won't exactly be flying but his new rig will be powered by an Allison aircraft motor.

Jack, one of the partners in Aero Marine in El Monte, has installed the huge aircraft 'mill" in an 18-foot Rayson Craft. The motor, one of the most popular for military aircraft during World War II, measures a staggering 1710 cubic inches.

At 1710 it has about four times the measured power of the normal entries in the SK, or racing runabout class, all of which will be in the unlimited inboard division.

Castle Lanes Strikes 'N Spares

Sunday, October 7, we will celebrate a big day at the Castle. "Jack Pot Pay Day." We will run a jack pot doubles participants' sweepers, which will include three games. We guarantee $100 first, $50 second, $25 third, $15 fourth and $10 fifth. High game will be $10 and high series will also be $10. All this for only $5 per person, which will also include a deluxe smorgasbord with entertainment.

Still leading in the "Aid Retarded Children" tournament at the Castle are Larry Laub, 755; Midge McMahan, 728; Val Stahl, 695; and for the women it is: Helen Giusti, 641; Thelma Griffith, 623, and Luella Brown, 611.

We are now signing up bantams, juniors and seniors for our winter leagues. Have you entered yet? If not, see Don Coleman at the desk.

The Standard Oil Mixed League had Lois McLaughlin shooting high for the night with a 166, 204, 146 for a 516 series. Val Stohl looks like he wants to make next year's Ken Bailer Classic, when he shot 234, 206, 211 for a nice 651 series.

We have a Monday Scratch League forming, and we could use a few more bowlers. The league will be in action every Monday at 12:30 p.m.

Last chance to sign up for the Vacation League. We warned you last year and some of you missed the boat. Don't miss this vacation of your life. It includes 12 days, and you travel by jet, and everything is first class. We have approximately six or seven spots still open. See Tom Hutcheson for more information.

This month's Queen of the Petticoat Derby was Marie Brown, who shot a very nice 607 series. Second went to Wilma Cabito with a 598. Ann Castell was third with 569; fourth was Marge Bick with 585, and fifth went to Terry McFadden with 579.

The open week found the popular Luella Brown on the beam with a 183, 224, 150 for

POINTS TO PONDER: Baltimore Colt star end Raymond Berry is handicapped by having one leg shorter than the other, 40 less pounds than most NFL ends and poor eyesight. But Raymond has found that hard work is the finest talent equalizer in sports.

Berry says: "During a game there is no time to think. If you have trained yourself properly, you can do the things without thinking . . ." Catcher Earl Battey of the Minnesota Twins was taken out of a baseball game recently because of an eye injury. Battey poked his finger in his eye while removing his mask. . . . There are so many Golden Staters playing on the Utah State football team (37 out of 55 are from California) that the San Jose rooting section gave them a splendid cheer recently. When the Utags came out onto the field at Spartan Stadium to play San Jose, the rooting section roared: "Beat the California Aggies . . ."

I've heard some beauties, but Coach George Halas' remark about the Sonoma Hot Springs having the miraculous powers to cure his injured ChiBears overnight is too deep for me. . . . The most explosive back I've seen this season in Bay Area college football is San Jose's Walt Roberts. He can travel across a gridiron just as quickly as ex-world record holder Ray Norton. But Roberts has the same problem as Norton. He'll never make a pro because of his weight (only 160 pounds).

GREAT MOMENTS IN SPORTS

1931 — Southern California's Thundering Herd wins national football championship despite the Trojans being the biggest upset victim of the year. The St. Mary's Gaels, coached by Slip Madigan, toppled Troy in the opening game of the season.

1950 — New Year's Day, the Santa Clara Broncos stunned the nation by beating Babe Parilli and the Kentucky Wildcats, 21-13, in the Orange Bowl in Miami. Hall Haynes stars for Broncos.

Wow! Talk about a pro sports farm system! How can any college match Michigan State University's pipeline to major league sports? The Spartans list eight players in big league baseball today — six of them pitchers. Here's the lineup: Dick Radatz, Red Sox; Ron Parranoski, Dodgers; Eddie Hobough, Senators; Jack (No-Hit) Kralick, Twins, and Robin Roberts of the Orioles. MSU has also contributed outfielder Al Luplow to Cleveland and catcher Hobie Landrith to the Orioles. . . .

The Spartans had two other sure fire major league baseball players who signed bonus contracts. They are Dean Look and Tommy Yewcic. But both later decided to play football in the American Football League. . . . No fewer than four ex-Spartans played big parts in leading the Green Bay Packers to a NFL world championship. The Packers got good mileage from defensive halfback Herb Adderly, linebacker Dan Currie, offensive lineman Norm Masters and defensive end Bill Quinlan. . . . Then there are others from East Lansing, like Al Darow. . . . Well, I think you have arrived at a clear picture. If you want to play pro baseball or football, Michigan State University would be a good starting point.

Australian athletes never cease to amaze me. They have the fiber which, I think, makes them tougher than other athletes in the world. Australia's entire population equals that of Pennsylvania. Yet the Aussie's have set many world records and have been sensational in swimming, golf, track and tennis.

One third of the continent's entire population live in two cities, Sydney and Melbourne. Everybody participates in sports and Melbourne, among other things, boasts of 20 Olympic sized pools. By comparison, San Francisco doesn't have one! Warren Wind's splendid book, "The Gilded Age of Sports," describes the New Continent as a place captivated with enthusiasm for all sports. Like America at the turn of the century.

CSM Takes Eleventh Straight Win

While most of California's top-rated Junior Colleges were being knocked off over the past weekend, College of San Mateo ran its victory string to 11 straight with a 12-0 blanking of Pasadena City College.

CSM, with a pre-season rating of ninth in the nation, has already posted two convincing victories, while most of the top rated teams began their season the past weekend with losses: Columbia River Basin dumped No. 1 rated Bakersfield, 20-7, to kill the Renegades' hopes of returning to the Junior Rose Bowl; Glendale was smothered by Long Beach, 48-0, and Mt. San Antonio downed Riverside, 14-7.

Of the teams considered among Southern California's top six, only Cerritos and Santa Ana escaped their opening games unscratched—and Cerritos just squeezed by Phoenix, 15-13. Santa Ana had an easy time with new Southwestern, 26-0.

Meanwhile in Golden Gate Conference practice action, veteran studded Contra Costa played its expected darkhorse role, upsetting Sacramento, 13-12; San Jose hit highly rated Fresno, 14-12; Chabot and Yuba fought to a scoreless tie; Foothill visited Santa Monica with a 23-16 win, and San Francisco came from behind to whip Los Angeles Valley, 22-6.

Diablo Valley was the only Golden Gate member to lose as the Vikings fell to ex-Big Eight power Modesto, 21-8. Oakland had a bye.

In a battle among two of Northern California's best, Hartnell took Hancock, 6-0.

San Mateo has a bye this week and opens Golden Gate competition against Diablo Valley at home on San Mateo High School's field, Saturday, October 6, at 2 p.m.

CSM finally broke through the Pasadena stalwart defense in the second half of their game Saturday night at South San Francisco High School's Clifford Field before a crowd of better than 2,900 fans.

Rick Norman established himself as a JC All-America quarterback candidate as he was San Mateo's scoring and total offense leader for the second week in a row.

He scored all of the Bulldog points in this one.

Pasadena, the only team to beat the Bulldogs in their past 19 games, got nowhere Saturday night. The Lancers could not penetrate past the Mateo 35 and on the occasion they marched that far, CSM tackle Walt Wenger immediately nailed PCC quarterback Bill Craven for an 11-yard loss.

San Mateo turned two drives into a touchdown at the beginning of the second half. The Bulldogs drove as far as the Pasadena 38 after the second half kick-off before punting on a fourth and one situation. Pasadena could do nothing but lose 15 yards from their 20 on their series of downs before punting to their 35, giving CSM a net gain of three yards on the exchange.

From there, Clarence Hamel scampered for 15 and quarterback Norman got the last three chunks on two nine-yard bursts and finally a two-yard run off left tackle for the score.

In the entire third quarter, Pasadena didn't move past its own 26 as Fred Oppezzo, South San Francisco grad Frank Kagarakis, and Mel Johnson all threw Lancer quarterback Bill Craven for big losses. Only after Norman had capped a fourth-quarter 56-yard CSM drive with a one-yard score, again over left tackle, with :9.35 left in the game, did the Lancers mount a drive out of their own territory to the Bulldog 35.

After Wenger nailed Craven with that 11-yard loss, Pasadena lost the ball and any chance for a comeback as end Nick Nikolenko fumbled an attempted lateral to halfback Dick Kliem after receiving a 15-yard Craven pass. The Lancers lost a total of 112 yards during the game.

Big play of San Mateo's second TD drive was a 27-yard pass-run from Norman to end Larry Bishop, a freshman from Sequoia. Bishop gently received the ball on the Pasadena 15 and galloped to the four. From there veteran Hamel, also an ex-Sequoia star, picked up three over right tackle Pete Nepote to set up Norman for the score on the one.

Pasadena didn't get out of its own territory until the end of the first quarter, when a 14-yard run by halfback Tony Williams brought the Lancers across the midfield stripe. But on fourth down and five on the Bulldog 37, Craven flipped a pass which Hamel intercepted on the 25.

"These penalties hurt us the most," said San Mateo coach Scovil. "We should have had two TDs in the second quarter."

Scovil welcomed back defensive specialist Oppezzo, who missed last week's opener with strep throat and thought Nepote "made some nice stops." Line coach Cliff Giffin singled out right end Mike McGriff for his blocking and center John Scott for his work on offense.

"Kagarakis made a couple of real nice stops, too," voiced Scovil, who also liked the work of former South San Franciscan Ron Witschy at linebacker spot.

a nice 557 and three wins for awards unlimited over Cordova Market. Star Motel won three from Castle Lanes with May Morales hitting 484, Carol Agulillo 521, and Mary Taylor 510 for Grant Bros. was too much for George's Liquors as they won all three games. Pat Vichweg's 545 led the Selix Formal Wear to the odd game over Clearlite Trophies, even with Eleanor Dragovich's 500.

The little mite, Midge Mcmahon had his big ball out again and shot a 666 series on games of 213, 234, 214, even though his team, the Viola Seed Company, failed to win a game. John's Delicatessen continued winning by three more victories to hold their one-game lead.

In the famous Jack and Jill Scotch Doubles this week, George McDonald and Marie Russell placed first with a 586 series. Second place went to Joe and Virginia Barattino. Third went to Anne and Julie Ortega. Mystery prizes awarded for the evening went to Joe and Chris Christensen, John and Gerry Walkley, Al and Helen Giusti, and Wanda and Chuck Nutting. Every Sunday at 9:30 p. m. is Jack and Jill Night at the Castle.

There is a Ladies' Scratch League now forming. The league will roll on Friday, and any woman interested should contact Mary Friedl.

News in the Bay Area Classic: Bud Cruess with a 702 paced the Classic keglers at the Castle as he led the Urone Allstars to a sweep over the Bacigalupi Realty bowlers. The Urone Stars also hit the league high series of 3005 on games of 982, 1021 and 1002. Other big ones were Hal Antrim of Clearlite Trophies, hitting 693 on games of 202, 256 and 235 to pace the Trophy keglers to a 2-1 win over the Diablo Bowling Supply. Bob Krause, hitting the maples for a 258, 207, 162 for a 627, paced the Louis Stores to a pair over the Korakas "Comets" with Junior Brown hitting 255, 230/655 for the losers. Saroni Sugar and Rice, behind Jim Justus with a 205, 224/617, gained the odd game from the Allgirl Pitzpatrick Chevrolet quintet. Ruby Chong with 213/597 led the gal's scores. Over at the Broadway Bowl, the scores were very low as the keglers managed only two series over 600, led by Lenny Won of the Sun Hung Heung with 203, 356/645, only to have his team go down to defe at by a 2-1 count to the Jerry Hale's "All Stars."

Kenny Bailer led the Castle Lones keglers with a 124, 212/609 to pace the Geneva Avenue bowlers to a 2-1 win over the Decarlo Stars. Concord Bowl gained the odd game from H. F. Suhr quintet as the Suthr keglers hit the high game on the Broadway Lanes with 1034 for their lone win. McDougall Press went down to defeat at the hands of the College Bowl five. Castle side had 43-220 . . . 9-600 . . . 1-700 . . . 4-1000 . . . 1-3000 series. The eight teams on the Castle side averaged 955.

THE VARSITY VERSION of the El Camino Colts will make their debut into prep football this Friday night when they meet Castlemont High School of the tough Oakland league in an 8 p. m. tilt at South San Francisco's Clifford Field. Discussing pre-game strategy (left to right) are: co-captain Mark Harris, head coach Tom McCormick, co-captain Ernie Trisette and line coach Bob Sexton.

Ken Bailer led his Larrabaru French Bread team to a 939, 1007, 1054 for a 3010 series and two games over the A. J. Dichiera Builders (Jerry Hale 204, 255, 200—659). Four members of the Larrabaru team broke 600: Ken Bailer, 638, Billy Mack 647, Bill Austin 649, and Joe Jacques 602. Foremost Dairies (Lloyd Cox 624) won two games from Ken's Flying "A". Bill Riddell, 221, 200, 204, for a 625, and Tony Riddell, 181, 220, 213—614. Foremost won the third game, 1064-1044. Hoffman Plumbing & Heating (Len Meinecke 212, 222, 162/575) won the odd game from City Grille & Radiator (Tom Puckett 203, 177, 212/594). The Castle Kids won two games from Lessios Travel Service. The kids shot 1034, 980, 971 for 2985 with Larry Laub leading with 242, 208, 237 for a 637 series and Ted Hendrickson 209, 170, 237 for a 616. Lerrios had Midge McMahan with 171, 210, 242 for a 623 and Carl Foutch 212, 207, 196 for a 615.

The league now has four teams tied for first place and four teams one game behind. The shooting was better this week, with 50-200 games, 13 600 series and six 1000 games.

Mike Kuzo led the 825 Scratch League with 215, 186, 199 for an even 600 while Paul Eelays had 245/592 and was head man for the Portola Merchants League. Ed Long made all the noise in the Night Owl League when he shot 189, 156, 231 for a 576 series.

pion Speed Shop Special from South San Francisco, along with other northern California fuel and gas contestants.

Activities begin at 2 p. m. with the usual full schedule of stock and super stock entries. Eliminations will be at 8:30 p.m. Ample parking facilities, grandstands and beverages are available at the Half Moon Bay drag strip, 26 miles south of San Francisco, Saturday night, September 29.

SAFETY GLASS

Automobile manufacturers introduced safety glass as standard equipment on all their cars in 1928, reports the National Automobile Club.

Speedshop Special To Race In Texas For World Title

Don Smith and Jim McClennan, co-owners of the World's Champion Speedshop Special, the world's number two ranking dragster, announced last night that their car will vie in Houston, Texas, on October 14 for the nation's number one spot.

The Champion Speedshop car, world's quickest and fastes Chevvy has slowly been moving up the ranks to the number one spot, besting all opposition.

The car will meet the national title-holder super-charged Chrysler, driven by Van Hunt of Arlington, Texas. The defender picked the date and the place for the top-spot run-off.

The South San Francisco auto will be accompanied to Texas by driver Sammy Hale of South San Francisco, builder and owner Jim McClennan of Daly City, and pit crewman John Zucca of Daly City. Also accompanying the dragster is Ken Fuller of Los Angeles, designer of the car.

Colts Test Castlemont In Varsity Inaugural

The 1962 version of the El Camino Colts, forerunners of a predicted great grid power to come, make their varsity debut this Friday night at South San Francisco's Clifford Field at 8 o'clock.

The opponent selected for the inaugural is Castlemont High School, favored team of the tough Oakland City Football League.

If Coach Tom McCormick's gridders are biting off more than they can chew, it remains to be seen. Last year as a Frosh-Soph team, the Colts swept through six opponents undefeated.

McCormick and top aides Bob Sexton and Harry Pitkoff have molded a group of small lads with desire into a well oiled and coordinated grid machine.

The Colts had a bruising scrimmage last Saturday and McCormick was pleased with the results.

He especially singled out the work of 155-pound tackle Charlie DeSoto, who was all over the field making tackles.

Also looking good were halfback Mike Stauffer, fullback Bruce Castellanos, and halfback Walt Harris.

McCormick is still undecided about his starting lineup, having only picked one boy to date. "Quarterback Mark Avelar is my only definite starter," said the one-time Ram great.

Jefferson Miler To Compete In Conference

College of San Mateo's first cross country team is literally off and running with 27 men working out. They will compete in a regular round robin conference schedule with the other Golden Gate Conference title. CSM will host the conference meet on the Stanford University three-mile course.

Some excellent runners will be competing for the Bulldogs on their initial team in this sport. Leading prospects at conference members for the present are sophomores Jim Groothoff of Burlington, and Sam Rutland of San Mateo. Both ranked in the top ten junior college half milers in the United States last spring.

Groothoff will see limited action because of exceptionally heavy academic responsibilities, but will be available for selected meets.

Sophomores Anibal Davila of Jefferson High School and Dave Kamrar, Carlmont, are looking forward to running back to their fine 1961 high school mile marks of 4:24.3 and 4:20.5.

Frosh Jim Huff, Woodside, leads the first year men at present, having already run under 4:30 in winning the Caladonian Games mile in Santa Rosa early in September.

Other promising freshmen are Larry Peterson, and San Ma-Terra Nova's Clint Miller and San Mateo's Frank Procella.

The Bulldogs open the season with a practice dual meet at San Francisco State in San Francisco at 4 p. m., Tuesday, September 25.

Verducci Invites DC Youths To SF State Football Game

Mayor Joe Verducci, retired "Gator" coach and now director of athletics again invited Daly City children to the fifth annual "Gator" Youth Groups football game on September 29.

This year's game will see San Francisco State's Gators meet Cal Poly of Pomona. The game will start at 2 p. m. at Cox Stadium on the San Francisco State College campus. Already many Daly City groups have indicated their intention of attending.

Groups representing the Police Athletic League teams (PAL), Better Youth Association (BYA), Our Lady of Perpetual Help and others have already made plans to attend.

Any youth group interested in attending this game "free of charge," may obtain the necessary information by calling the Daly City recreation department at PL 5-0850, extension 18.

will have qualifying laps to determine starting positions in their main events while the claimers will start the top 25 in point standings.

Admission price for the triple main event program will be $2 for adults.

Tigers Seeking Maiden Win

Coach Floyd Gonella's Terra Nova Tigers, still smarting from a 20-6 defeat at the hands of the Riordan Crusaders at Kezar Stadium last Friday, take on Marin County's Terra Linda High School this Friday at 3:15 p. m. on the Tiger field.

The Tigers are still seeking their first varsity win after nine defeats, dating back to last football season.

In last week's contest at Kezar, the Tigers were unable to generate any type of offense.

The Crusaders, led on defense by stocky Pat Sullivan, Don Drew and Mike Cregan, held the Tigers to just one first down the entire game.

And that came in the final two minutes of action when Fred Mason took a short pass from Dennis Caruthers and romped 35 yards for the Terra Nova score. Up until that time the Tigers had just 17 yards rushing and 17 yards passing.

The Crusaders first scored in the first quarter when speedy Sandy Green gathered in a punt and flew 53 yards into the end zone for the score. Cregan kicked the conversion.

Green scored the second TD in the next period when he scooted around right end.

The Riordan eleven, coached by Jerry Finnegan of Daly City, scored their final TD when halfback Tim Norman bulled in from the four yard line. Cregan again added the extra point.

Dennis Caruthers played an outstanding game for the Tigers, being outstanding on both defense and offense. Manuel Pick, switched from guard to quarterback, made a spotty showing, as his passes were hurried due to the hard-rushing Riordan line.

The big oaken doors of the North County schools opened up two weeks ago and the opening day affected each strata of the community differently.

To the little kindergarten student, who is making his first venture into the wide-world of education, the first plunge is a frightening one. He is swept from the safe confines of his home and forced into his first contact with the aminous, frightening outside world.

Between the tears and sobs of the first day, he is able to establish his first real relationship with outside life. Needless to say, it is one of the most momentous moments in his life.

To the young fourth or fifth grader, school is kind of old hat, and presents a kind of interference to his life of lolli-pops and television programs. During the summer he visualizes school as being a concentration camp, surrounded by a large moat. He dreads its opening, but is the first one up on the morning that the school bell chimes.

To the seventh and eighth grader, school comes as a welcome relief to a dull summer. It is especially appealing to the young girl who has just turned into her glorious 'teens and is allowed to wear lipstick in public for the first time.

She views school as one big house-party full of youthful twisters and prospective phone calls. This is the first steps towards the adult world of self subsistence, and she has most of the benefits and none of the heartaches. Her first day at school leaves her talking most of the afternoons and the better part of the night, while nobody else in the house can get a word in edgeways — or even tries.

To the senior high school student, the first day of school is also a happily anticipated venture. When he walks into school that first day his head is high, chest out, and stomach in. He is one of the elite and he wants to make sure everybody knows it. He has the respect and admiration of all of the underclassmen — a real, live senior. But his ego is soon somewhat deflated when the teachers heap the first day's homework on his broad shoulders, and his head comes down just a shade, his chest sags, and his stomach pushes out.

But the person who really lives for the opening day of school is the mother. To her it is the pot of gold at the end of the rainbow; the end of summer tranquilizer. She is now able to go into semi-retirement —at— least it seems like it to her.

The harried lady of the house sinks into the chair as the bell rings in the far-off distance, bringing a relaxing serenade to her summer-torn mind.

It seems that there has been a little jealousy created at the city officers in the War Memorial Building. There was a rival fish-catching contest going on between Recreation Superintendent Chuck Vincent and City Maintenance man Vince DeBono. Both had gone bass fishing about 20 times, reaping nary a bite.

But the other day, DeBono put an end to the contest when he granted his limit of three within a half hour. DeBono wasted no time in telling Vincent, and now the Rec head has just about given up the ship — and the pole . . . and the reel . . . and the bait. But then there is always the fish market.

While on the same subject, Vincent that is, not the fish, Vincent and his vivacious wife, Betty, celebrated their 15th year of wedded bliss last Thursday. Which goes to prove that you can be a lousy fisherman, but still be a good husband.

Ed Dominion, assistant city engineer for Daly City, has become one of us. He moved into his new Daly City home on Zita Manor last week, making him a realy Daly Citian.

Broadmoor Presbyterian Church Maps Out Big D-Day Plans

"Before a D-Day in any endeavor can be achieved successfully, there must be three other initial developments, namely A, B and C," announced the Rev. Herbert C. Tweedie, pastor of the Broadmoor Presbyterian Church. He referred to the coming ABCD program of member commitment during the month of October.

"The ABCD's are phases of our Every - Member - Canvass," said Reverend Tweedie. "Our annual announcement, briefing, commitment and dedication of our time, talents and financial resources to the work of the church here in Daly City and throughout the nation and world."

At next Sunday's twin services, Dick Gray, a member of the canvass committee, will announce the month-long campaign, during which each member and friend of the Broadmoor church will be apprised of the present and future needs which are set by the pledging system of the local congregation.

"Ours is a very busy church," said Gray, "with many organizations, all ow which will be visited by our speakers' bureau, either in person, or by tape-recording. Some of our ladies' circles meet at noon when we're away at work, and part of their October postprandial - programming will be the stewardship message on tape, as presented by Ray Dictenberg, Jim Fairbanks, Kan Gillespie and myself." Gray mentioned that all the ladies would have to do was to push the button . . . on, that is.

The canvass committee's chairman is Ken Gillespie. The board of trustees include Rod Barnes, George Holman, Ed Smith, Frank Dethlefsen, Jim Fairbanks and Dick Gray.

Charlotte Spruiell acts as secretary, and Ray Lichtenberg is consultant. The minister also is an ex-officia member of the committee.

Smith and Dethlefsen will work with Lichtenberg in the recruitment of canvassers for D-Day. Holman and Barnes, treasurers of the church, formulate the fincial needs, while Gillespie and Mrs. Spruiell are responsible for the dissemination of the printed information to the congregation.

Prior to Sunday's announcement phase, a church family night gathering will get the firstword of the October emphasis. Sponsored by the Village Churchmen, a pot-luck supper at 6:30 p. m. Friday will precede a short program of entertainment by members of the men's group. Slides taken five years earlier, during Mr. Tweedie's first year at Broadmoor, will show how the church and the children have grown.

In mid-October, pledge cards will be received by each church member family, with an invitation to return them on or before D-Day. Program pasters in the narthex of the church will show the Sunday-by-Sunday results.

"By D-Way itself, November 4," we expect that more than 80 per cent of the total pledges will have been received," said secretary Charlotte Spruiell.

"We used to have a much greater need for home calls than presently. Our two-man calling teams often had 15 to 20 visitations to make on Canvass Sunday. Now they've only four or five. The teams sit down to a nice ham dinner, prepared by the Women's Association, receive their assignments, and make the calls. Our great hope is that by this D-Day all members and friends will have made their pledges of financial support, there will be no calls to make, the ham will have a chance to digest, and the men can go home to cut the lawn."

Services at Broadmoor Presbyterian are at 9:30 and 11 a. m. with Sunday School for all ages, and infant care provided.

Colma Resident

India Assignment For State College Dean

Retiring after 14 years at San Francisco State College, Dr. Reginald Bell, Dean of Instruction, a resident of 23 Garden lane, Colma, departs October 1 to serve in India on the staff of the Teachers' College, Columbia University, for the next two years.

Bell will be under the leadership of Dr. J. Paul Leonard, former president of San Francisco State, 1945-57, who is advising with the Ministry of Education of the National Government of India on the improvement of secondary education and teacher training. He goes to his new post as a specialist in teacher education, joining a team to develop a national institute in New Delhi. Service in India marks a return by Dr. Bell, who was born in that country.

Upon his announcement from San Francisco State College, president Paul A. Dodd stated: "Dean Bell served San Francisco State College faithfully and with high ability for many years and now it is with genuine regret that we lose his valuable services. But we wish Dr. Bell a successful and satisfying extension of his career as he rejoins his good friend, former president and longtime colleague on a mission of vital importance to the world of international education."

After serving at Stanford University in the fields of educational psychology, child growth and development, and guidance and counseling, Dr. Bell came to San Francisco State in 1948. For his first two years, he served as dean of students and since as dean of instruction. He was graduated from Oberlin College, Ohio, and took his Master's Degree there. In 1933, he received his Ph.D. at Stanford.

Mrs. Bell accompanies her husband. They have two children, a son, David Elliot Bell, director of the Bureau of Budget under President Kennedy, and Barbara Bell Dwiggins, who lives in London.

town talk

KITTERY KATTERY — Martha Wise, of 1990 20th Avenue in San Francisco, is wild to have everyone turn out for the San Francisco Cat Show next month.

Mrs. Wise, who claims she had paid attention to cats since she got her first one, carries much info about cats around with her in her head.

For instance, a cat kennel is called a Cattery. There are two Catteries in Daly City. And there are several types of cats — odd eyed, White Persian, Siamese, and Manx. According to her, you can get any kind of cat you want by breeding.

Breed a cat without a tail (rumpy) with a cat with a stump tail and you get a rumpy-stumpy. Their children will be rumpies and stumpies combined.

SOME OF THE ZIM and sparkle which last year characterized the Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce seemed to be lacking last week, as the Chamber held its first fall general session at noon at Val's Restaurant. No controversial items, no sweeping speeches and no grand resolutions made the hour a rather tame one in comparison to last year when the club had about a dozen hot things going. It could be that the organization is pausing until after the elections, which will be held next month, before going ahead on a full scale program of community projects.

A DALY CITY OFFICIAL who refused to be named said he is planning to bottle a local product called "Virile" and sell it to "barren areas," where the birth rate is lower.

THE BIG SPREAD — Daly City really knows how to entertain its visitors and proved this last Wednesday night at Val's when they put out the read carpet for mayors, councilmen and representatives of the North County Council of iCties.

Red jacketed bartenders, expressly for the occasion, kept drinks flowing through a talkative prepandial hour. A delicious tossed salad, sprinkled with Bay Shrimp, Antipasto deluxe and a thick steak gave a sumptuous sendoff to an informative and interesting meeting.

THE STARS ARE GONE but the Mission Bell Motel in Daly City still carries the name of a motel once the famous hangout for movie stars.

Owner George Smith remembers when the place was one of the finest motels in the state of California and people would rent space to sleep in tents at five cents per tent.

"This was years ago. It became kind of a hideout for movie stars. They'd stay here because the place was away from the city and not too well known." Linda Darnell, Bette Davis and others used the place as a "hideout to get away from it all."

Although the motel no longer has its stars, it has one BIG boast, according to Smith. The biggest repeat business of just about any motel in California. "They keep coming back each year," he concluded.

Lucky 13 for "Science in Action," the award-laden weekly television program produced by the California Academy of Sciences and telecast Monday evenings over KRON-TV! Not only does this month begin the 13the season for the popular locally-produced science show, but it is now viewed in 13 cities across the country and even across the ocean to Hong Kong, where is is telecast in four different dialects! Other cities

DR. GEORGE WELLS BEADLE, Nobel laureate and president of the University of Chicago, demonstrates a prop for the program on "The Miracle of Genetics" to the program host, Dr. Earl S. Herald. Dr. Beadle and Dr. Herald had met some years earlier than the recent "Science in Action" program when Dr. Herald was a graduate student at Stanford University and Dr. Beadle was one of his professors.

in which the program is scheduled include Phoenix, San Antonio, Los Angeles, Portland, Cedar Rapids, Denver, Houston, Johnstown, Lexington, Miami and Honolulu.

Another distinction for the program is, according to Executive Producer Banjamin Draper, the show is "the only commercially sponsored television program that is integrated on a weekly basis in schools across the country." Classroom kits are available for teachers and are used by schools in the majority of cities in which the program is viewed.

Certainly bringing great recognition to our area is that two persons involved with the program are local residents. Dr. Earl S. Herald is a long-time resident of Daly City and Mrs. Margie Downey, who developed the worksheets used by the schools, is also a local resident and is a science teacher in the Jefferson Elementary School District.

Dr. Herald, articulate and personable host on the show, is also curator of the world-famous Steinhart Aquarium and author of the best-seller "Living Fishes of the World," now in its second American edition and translated into eight languages.

The worksheets developed by Mrs. Downey were used in the Los Angeles school district last year. The response from teachers and administrators was most enthusiastic with more than 100 letters received during the last couple of months commenting favorably on the program and worksheets.

For the coming season, suggestions and ideas from the teachers who used the worksheets have been incorporated into the classroom kits. Locally, the worksheets are being used by most of the teachers in the Jefferson Elementary School District.

"Science in Action" has been honored by virtually every national and local television award that is available. Guest scientists who have appeared on past programs and will appear during the coming season include many Nobel laureates and others of worldwide fame.

Daly City Garden Club Meeting Set

Mrs. Dora Kusber, president of the Daly City Garden Club, extends an invitation to all Daly City gardeners to become members of the local garden club, which meets regularly on the first Tuesday of each month in the Daly City War Memorial Building Community Center.

Mrs. Richard Hunter, program chairman, announces a most interesting program for the regular monthly meeting, Tuesday, October 2, at 8 p.m. in the War Memorial Building, Mission and Alps streets.

The program will be: "Mysteries of Plant Life," a motion picture by lapse-time photography and through microscope. This remarkable film reveals the hidden secrets of flowers and plants. The film also shows the processes by which plants reproduce and serve mankind. This educational film has been developed by the Standard Oil Company of California.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Yohn will serve as host and hostess for the evening and refreshments will be served. The gardening public and other interested persons are cordially invited to attend, free of charge.

Nearly always it is a sign that the engine needs to be tuned up, from valves to ignition.

ALEC First Birthday Celebration Continues

The big first birthday celebration for ALEC Membership Shopping Center is still going strong, and leading to a happy climax on Saturday, October 6, when a color television set will be given away.

Throughout the celebration, ALEC is reversing the normal procedure and is giving presents instead of receiving them. This week, $1,109.12 worth of birthday presents are on display in all departments, waiting for a member to show his lucky ALEC membership number.

For the final day, new winning numbers will be drawn each half hour until a member shows a winning ALEC number and take home the television set.

ALEC gave out more than 3,500 pieces of birthday cake and about 2,000 balloons during one day of the month-long birthday celebration, marking the first anniversary of the opening of ALEC at 255 D street, off Junipero Serra boulevard in Colma.

People joining ALEC during the birthday celebration will have the opportunity of receiving birthday gifts the following week.
